THE ENGINE.

Into the gloom of the deep, dark night,
With panting breath and a startling scream;
Swift as a bird in sudden flight
Darts this creature of steel and steam.

Awful dangers are lurking nigh,
Rocks and chasms are near the track,
But straight by the light of its great white eye;
It speeds through the shadows, dense and black.

Terrible thoughts and fierce desires
Trouble its mad heart many an hour,
Where burn and smoulder the hidden fires,
Coupled ever with might and power.

It hates as a wild horse hates the rein;
The narrow track by vale and hill,
And shrieks with a cry of startled pain,
And longs to follow its own wild will.

Oh, what am I but an engine shod
With muscle and flesh by the hand of God,
Speeding on through the dense, dark night,
Guided alone by the soul's white light?

Often and often my mad heart tires,
And hates its way with a bitter hate,
And longs to follow its own desires,
And leave the end in the hauls of fate.

O, ponderous engine of steel and steam;
Or human engine of flesh and bone—
Follow the white light's certain beam—
There lies safety, and there alone.

The narrow track of fearless truth,
Lit by the soul's great eye of light,
O, passionate heart of restless youth,
Alone will carry you through the night.

A Bewitched Pavement.

HOW THE ELECTRICITY FROM THE EDISON LIGHT WIRES MADE THE HORSES SKIP.

Ten square feet of the pavement in Nassau street, near Ann, New York, became suddenly bewitched early yesterday afternoon. The first indications of the change were noticed when a farmer driving a sleepy sorrel nag, drove over it. In the twinkling of an eye, the old mare began to double-shuffle on the cobble stones. The farmer rubbed his eyes and gazed with astonishment at the remarkable evolution of his hitherto peaceful beast.

"I've driv that 'ere mare nigh onto ten year, and I swan, I never knowen her to act like that afore," he remarked to a bystander.

Next came a big truck loaded with paper. No sooner had the horses stepped upon the magic spot than they dropped upon their knees and delivered several kicks towards the driver's nose.

"What in the divil has got hold of um, now?" shouted the driver, as he plied his whip.

By this time a crowd of spectators had gathered around the betwitched place. Three policemen got their heads together and held a consultation.

"What can we do?" said the spokesman.

"Put a barrel over it," replied one.

"Spake to the cap'n and have it arrested," said the other.

A newsboy rushed down the street, and, beckoning to a comrade, cried out: "There's gosts up there, Jimmie."

In the meantime a pedlar of tinware, with a ten dollar skeleton of a horse, drove through the crowd. At the moment he entered the charmed circle his quadruped gave a snort, and, with ears erect and tail pointing towards the north star, he dashed down the street at a 2.40 gait. Roars of laughter followed the terror-stricken pedlar, as he grasped the reins with one hand and with the other endeavored to hold down his dancing stock in trade.

Nassau street never contained such a jolly crowd or beheld such a free circus. Bankers, lawyers, clerks and bootblacks laughed till the tears ran down their cheeks. At length somebody suggested that there might be a break in the electric light wires which, contained in iron pipes, ran through the street. Word was at once sent to the branch office in Pearl street, and the current being shut off, all the strange qualities of the mysterious spot immediately disappeared. The disappointed audience soon melted away, and the business of the street was again resumed. Workmen discovered last night that the cap at the end of the pipe leading into the building had slipped downward and established a connection with the earth. In this way the electricity was allowed to escape.

An Eighty Pound Hailstone.

Considerable excitement was caused in our city last Tuesday evening by the announcement that a hailstone weighing eighty pounds had fallen six miles west of Salina, near the railroad track. An inquiry into the matter revealed the following facts:—A party of railroad section men were at work Tuesday afternoon, several miles west of town, when the hailstorm came upon them. Mr. Martin Ellwood, the foreman of the party, relates that near where they were at work hailstones of the weight of four or five pounds were falling, and that returning toward Salina the stones increased in size, until his party discovered a huge mass of ice weighing, as near as he could judge, in the neighborhood of eighty pounds. At this place the party found the ground covered with hail as if a wintry storm had passed over the land. Besides securing the mammoth chunk of ice, Mr. Ellwood secured a hailstone something over a foot long, three or four inches in diameter, and shaped like a cigar. These "specimens" were placed upon a hand car and brought to Salina. Mr. W. J. Hagler, North Santa Fe merchant, became the possessor of the large piece, and saved it from dissolving by placing it in sawdust at his store. Crowds of people went down to see it Tuesday afternoon, and many were the theories concerning the mysterious visitor. At evening its dimensions were 29x16x2 inches.—Salina (Kansas) Journal.

The Russian hangman is a convict who was sentenced to death for robbery and murder, but the penalty was commuted to imprisonment for life upon the condition that he should perform the duties of executioner whenever called. He has been confined in Moscow during the past fifteen years, and is sent from there, under a strong guard, to Kieff, Odessa and St. Petersburg, as his services may be required in one or other of those cities. A visit to this man is described by Victor Tissot, a French author, in a work on Russia and the Russians, recently published in Paris. He found the executioner reposing after the exertion of hanging the two Nihilists, Prossniakoff and Kiviatowski. A young woman of attractive appearance, with a child in her arms, was with him. She was his wife. The comforts of matrimony had not been denied him, and he seems to have had no difficulty, notwithstanding his condition and work, in finding a woman to marry him. The hangman's face is described as stolid rather than terrible or repulsive. He has abnormally long arms, and is said to be possessed of herculean strength. He was spoken of as having "the strength of twenty men." One day there was a revolt in the prison, and he was summoned to help subdue the prisoners. He rushed in among them and killed three with his bare hands.

It is rumored that Mr. Dewdney is to be relieved in October by Hon. Mr. Mousseau, Premier of Quebec.

THE MANITOBA EXHIBIT.

The exhibition of agricultural produce at the Ontario Provincial from the Prairie Province now here is one that will attract great attention from Ontario farmers and their sons, in view of the special claims made by Manitoba to be considered the most desirable field for settlement in the Dominion. The specimens of grain, roots and vegetables that have been sent should certainly give a fair idea of the capacities of its soil and climate, as they are the ordinary produce of farmers, and were not specially grown for the exhibition. The collection is shown in a small and unpretentious building dubbed "Manitoba Hall," about 30 feet square, which has only just been finished. The selection of the grain, roots, &c., was made under the supervision of Mr. Acton Burrowes, Deputy Minister of Agriculture and Statistics. It was not decided until two months ago that Manitoba would exhibit, but as soon as this conclusion was arrived at the necessary preparations were pushed forward with great rapidity and in six weeks' time the collection was on its way here under the charge of Mr. Burrows, assisted by Messrs. R. R. Keith, a Winnipeg seedsman who represented Manitoba at Montreal and St. John on former occasions, and Mr. James Riddell, a farmer in Pembina district. All the articles have been placed in position by these gentlemen, and although the exhibit came from so great a distance it was the first to arrive on the fair grounds, and those in charge were much disappointed on finding the hall was not ready for them. The result was that the goods were not in their places till to-day.

There are 321 exhibits, contributed by all parts of the Province. There is a large display of grain in the straw, among the samples being some oats of 5 feet 9 in height. There are over 30 different parcels of prairie grass in addition to the cultivated grasses, Alsike clover and red clover. Some huge sunflowers will facinate the eyes of the æsthetic, while for more practical people specimens of sugar-cane and corn in the stalk will have more value. The wheat shown is very fine, the grain being solid and plump. There are samples of Fife, white, Russian, Scotch, red Fife, Champion, Norway, Lost Nation, and Odessa red. The country is celebrated for Red Fife wheat. The oats are really beautiful samples. Among them might be mentioned Odessa gold oats from the Mennonite settlement and white potato oats. The latter were grown by H. Jickling, of Springfield, from seed purchased in Lapland. Flour is shown from the Ogilvie mill recently started in Winnipeg, with a capacity of six hundred barrels a day, and from the establishment of D. H. McMillan, Winnipeg.

In roots and vegetables there is a large miscellaneous collections. These had to be dug early in the season, so that no competition is made with Ontario. Notwithstanding that the crop was prematurely gathered there are some mammoth Early Rose and white Lapland potatoes, and some large squashes, pumpkins, beets and turnips.

The commissioners, not content with showing samples of the crops, show the soil itself. The curious will notice a few queer-looking boxes about four feet high and with glass fronts. These boxes contain specimens of the soil in various parts of the provinces. In selecting pits were dug and the earth taken out just as it came; the top soil and the first three feet of subsoil are exhibited. Some samples of Winnipeg earth are intended to show what the soil comes to when cultivated. Before leaving the farm products the visitor will notice a large bunch of native hops gathered in the vicinity of St. Andrews. The plant proper is nine feet in length, and stalk five feet.

In the mineral section Major Bowles shows a few specimens of white limestone from Selkirk. It is said to make an excellent building stone, and is being extensively used by the Manitobans. Some capital grey granite is shown from Rat Portage. The Keewatin Milling Company exhibit a lot of surface gold ore, iron ore, and copper, and the Rev. J. B. Silcox, Winnipeg, and David Young, send an assortment of iron ore, Souris Valley coal, and other minerals.

It is surprising to Ontario people to find here a collection of samples of wood, it being generally believed that there is no timber in the Prairie Province. The following woods are however exhibited:—Cottonwood, soft maple, oak, birch, elm, cherry, white ash, white willow, poplar, balm of Gilead and plum. Finally, there is a judicious selection of maps and books illustrating the topography and capacities of the province.—Toronto Mail.

Putting Away Tools.

The wearing out of farm implements is, as a rule, due more to neglect than to use. If tools can be well taken care of, it will pay to buy those made of the best steel, and finished in the best manner; but in common hands, and with common care, such are of little advantage. Iron and steel parts should be cleaned with dry sand and a cob, or scraped with a piece of soft iron, washed and oiled if necessary, and in a day or two cleaned off with the corn-cob and dry sand. Finally paint the iron part with rosin and beeswax, in the proportion of 4 of rosin, to 1 of wax, melted together and applied hot. This is good for the iron or steel parts of every sort of tool. Wood work should be painted with good, boiled, linseed oil, white lead and turpentine, colored of any desired tint; red is probably the best color. Keep the cattle away until the paint is dry and hard, or they will lick, with death as the result. If it is not desired to use paint on hand tools, the boiled oil with turpentine and "liquid drier," does just as well. Many prefer to saturate the wood-work of farm implements with crude petroleum. This cannot be used with color, but is applied by itself, so long as any is absorbed by the pores of the wood.—American Agriculturist.

Real Estate in Manitoba.

A leading real estate agent reports that Americans are buying freely of Winnipeg property and there is a prospect of Canadians from the older Provinces being crowded out. In reference to the condition of the market, he is reported by the Winnipeg Sun as saying: "If the cessation of gambling, the buying of properties worth $15,000 or $20,000 on a margin of $500 or $1,000, be considered as the bursting of the bomb, then it is burst in earnest, for I can assure you that that time is past. If, on the other hand, the making of legitimate sales at prices in advance of the figures of a month or two ago be considered evidence of confidence in the future of this city and Province, then I can assure you that owners of property have no reason to fear."

London Fire Service.

DESCRIPTION OF THE FIRE SYSTEM IN THE GREAT METROPOLIS.

Capt. Eyre M. Shaw, Chief of the London Fire Department, now visiting in this country, gives a number of interesting facts with regard to the system and material for fire protection in use in London. The area to be protected is 121 square miles. The force employed numbers 536 men and officers of all grades, one-third of the number doing duty by day and two-thirds by night, each set working twelve hours. The equipment of the department comprises 55 land fire engines, 121 fire escape engines, three floating steam fire engines, 11 moveable land stations, four floating stations, three large land fire engines, thirty-five small steam land fire engines, two steam tugs, four barges, twenty-nine hose-carts, fifteen vans and two trollies. The moveable land stations are large vans that are taken to a designated spot every night at 8 o'clock, each one drawn by four horses. The horses are then returned to the engine-house to which they belong. They are sent the next morning at 8 o'clock to fetch the vans back. In each van is an engine and a number of men, who are always ready to attend a fire in the immediate neighborhood where the van is stationed. The department is forced to use these movable stations on account of the cost of building permanent stations. The engine does not leave its place, but depends upon its length of hose to reach a fire. The system of telegraph alarms fifty-three telegraph lines with forty-four "call points" or alarm boxes, and seven telephone lines. The intention is to replace all the telegraph lines with telephone lines. The city is divided into four sections or fire districts, each with a central office, communicating with headquarters. The area covered is so great that a single system like that of New York would not answer. Captain Shaw was greatly interested with the method employed in New York of loosing the horses from their stalls by electricity on the sounding of an alarm, and the automatic harnessing. The London horses stand in their stalls harnessed. All the London firemen are given a two months' course of instruction and systematic drilling before they are sent out for actual service. The department has placarded rubber hose entirely and use "fabric hose," which is much lighter, costs one-third as much and lasts three times as long. It is manufactured at Dundee.

The Foundering of the Propeller Asia with a Loss of 98 Lives.

LIST OF THE PASSENGERS AND CREW AS FAR AS ASCERTAINED.

Collingwood, Sept. 18.—There is nothing of importance to add to the reports already forwarded of the wreck of the Northern Transit Company's steamer Asia, and the loss of 98 lives near French River. She left here on Wednesday evening for French River and the Sault, and went down during a heavy storm on Thursday forenoon. The survivors are two passengers, Mr. D. A. Tinkess and Miss C. A. Morrison. The Asia had a heavy cargo, and a heavy deck-load, including a number of horses. She was of 613 gross and 364 registered tons. She had only 22 state-rooms, and was a very narrow vessel all over. The Toronto papers of this morning demand a searching investigation by the Government.

Crew.—Captain, J. W. Savage; 1st mate, John McDermid; 2nd mate, McNab; wheelsmen, M. Davis and G. McKay; watchman, Jas. Smith; deck hands, Jno. McIlleroy, Jos. Nelson, Wm. Stinson, C. Innes; 1st engineer, T. K. Bruce; 2nd engineer, M. Windover; firemen, H. Degroat, James Lamb; steward, Stephen Carters; waiters, Isaac Bennett, A. Watt, T. Lawrence; porters, R. Walker, T. Hill; ladies' maid, Mrs. Walters; cooks, Wm. Jackson and J. J. Jackson; purser, Jno. McDougall. Passengers—twenty-seven or thirty shantymen, names as yet unknown; Wm. Christie, newly married, and wife, Collingwood; Clinton B. Morey, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Wood, Cincinnati, Ohio; A. Bowes, Mr. Shipp, A. McDuncan and son, Hamilton; J. Martin, Collingwood; a man named Kerr and family, of Limehouse; W. B. Gallagher, Manitowaning; J. H. Tinkiss, Manitowaning; Mr. McNabb, Miss Hanbury, Owen Sound; Mr. Sproull, of Cookstown, supposed to be on board. The two saved are D. C. Tinkess and Miss Christie Morrison, who have not yet reached here from Parry Sound.

Good for Brandon.

One of Bradstreet's reporters, who knows whereof he speaks, and who is at present on a business trip through the North-West, writing from Brandon to Mr. Irving, superintendent of Bradstreet's at Toronto, says:

"This place (Brandon) has grown wonderfully, and there are over 200 buildings under contract at present. The town claims a population of about 3,000. The drive across the prairie revealed a splendid country, and the crop of grain to be marketed here this year is immense. The whole country seems to be going ahead rapidly, and the change since my first trip up this way is marvellous."

When Widows are Most Dangerous.

Boston paper: The second year is that in which the widow is really happy. The sombre depths of mourning cast aside, she enters the world again and reopens her jewel case. Even with a very becoming widow's cap on, life is more or less a blank to a woman if she cannot wear her jewels. Now, however, the diamonds, pearls and opals may reappear, and with what delight are they not worn? Visions of dresses in delicate half tints, pearl gray, soft lavenders, mixtures of white and grey or black and white float before her mind, soon to be realized. Her year's absence from balls and parties, and crowded rooms has renewed her beauty and the same retirement has brightened her eyes and tinged her cheeks with the freshness of enjoyment with which she prepares to re-enter the world. Now, indeed, is the fashionable widow a dangerous and seductive creature. She knows that she is prettier than ever, and the consciousness making her more certain of coming victories gives a genuine softness to her manner. Beware of widows in their second year. Always dangerous, they are then more so than ever. Light hearted as a girl, she feels younger every day, and from her own point of view there is no more enviable being to be found than a young, handsome, rich and lively widow whose heart is not inconveniently soft, nor her feelings too acute to prevent her going through her life "well pleased and careless," and extracting from it as much of the pleasure and as little of the pain as may fall to the share of any mortal creature.

Sir Garnet Wolseley.

Sir Garnet Wolseley, who has been appointed commander-in-chief of the British army in Egypt, is the son of a Major. He is an Irish Catholic, and was born in Dublin in 1833. He entered the 80th Regiment of Infantry as sergeant in 1852, and in 1853 took part in the Burmese campaign and afterwards in the Crimean war. At Sebastopol he was seriously wounded. In 1855 to 1858 he took part in the suppression of the Indian Mutiny, and distinguished himself as lieutenant-major at the siege of Lucknow. In 1860 he was quarter-master-general in the Chinese war and in 1860 was sent to Canada as chief of the general staff. He commanded the expedition against the Red River rebels, and so distinguished himself that the honor of knighthood was conferred upon him. In August, 1873, he undertook the command of the army sent against the Ashantees. In December he began his famous march from the gold coast, and on the 5th of February he entered Comassie, the capital of Ashantee, after having defeated the natives in the battle of Amoasul. The Imperial Parliament acknowledged his "courage, energy and endurance," by a reward of £25,000 sterling, and the city of London conferred upon him its freedom. For a time he commanded the militia and volunteers, and for a short time was Governor of Natal. Then he became chief commissioner to Cypress. During the Zulu war he was appointed commander-in-chief, but before his arrival in South Africa Lord Chelmsford had brought the war to a close by the capture of King Cetewayo. Sir Garnet Wolseley has fought in four quarters of the world. In India he lost one of his eyes. He is the author of numerous works on military science, and has even written a novel.

Chat from Chater.

Chater is a rising town situated on Sec. 21, Tp. 10, Rg. 18. It is six miles east from Brandon by trail, and five by rail, and three miles from Grand Valley. The C. P. R. runs through the site, and the company have just completed a large and handsome passenger and freight station with a large extent of yard and siding accommodation. Mr. E. A. Ellis, is the station agent, and all parties having business to do with that gentleman will find him a thoroughly efficient and obliging officer.

The town site, which is beautifully situated on the banks of Willow Creek, has recently been surveyed by Mr. E. A. Struthers, of the C. P. R. Co's service. Though it is only a little more than a month since the first building was erected here, there are now three general stores, Messrs. Dickson Bros., Low & Hobbs, and R. T. Evans; Mr. H. W. Speer's lumber yard, two hotels, a blacksmith shop and several private residences.

Mr. John A. Stewart's Hotel will open this week.

A large moose was recently shot near here by some Indians.

It is expected that a post office will be established here soon.

Large quantities of freight for Medicine and other points are now daily.

The harvest in this vicinity is now nearly over. The grain in general is turning out better than was expected.

A social party was given last Thursday evening to celebrate the opening of the Crawford House. Quite a large number attended, and a very pleasant time was enjoyed.

There is a splendid opening here for a flour mill, also a grain elevator, for there will be an immense quantity of grain marketed here this season, most of the famous Big Plain country being tributary to this point. The county council has just put a substantial bridge across Willow Creek here.

Chater, Sept. 7, 1882.

Malta.

Malta is prospering, several good substantial buildings have been finished within the past few days, and others are being put up. The firm of Winter & How has dissolved, James Winter retaining the business; he has removed to his new store and keeps a full stock of dry goods, groceries, etc. A. J. O'Higgins has put up a good substantial building and has ordered a stock and will soon open out a general store. How & Hay have completed their new hotel and are prepared to accommodate the travelling public in good style. A post office is wanted badly; a petition was sent to the Department early in the spring signed by over one hundred residents of

THE BRANDON SUN.

BRANDON, MANITOBA, SEPT. 28, 1882

NO MORE DISALLOWANCE.—Ottawa, Sept. 26.—The Dominion Government has at last yielded to the great pressure of public opinion and will reverse their policy of disallowing charters to local railways in the Province of Manitoba.

DR. SCHULTZ has been made a Senator. This was was not unexpected, as it has been shown that his day was done as a popular representative.

THE STREET grading is not progressing as rapidly as might be desired, nor does it at present look as if the work would be completed this fall. It is highly desirable, though, that all the improvments now under way should be finished before the snow flies, as after that work will have to be stopped until spring. It is to be hoped, though, that steps will yet be taken that will avoid this, as, if left until next season, the uncompleted work of this year will be in a very bad state, and will materially injure the interests of the city. The Board of Works and council are, however, taking active steps and will do all that they can to hurry the work along. If the contractor cannot accomplish the work given him some action should be taken at once towards placing it in other hands.

OUR RAILWAY INTERESTS

The communication of "Railroad" in another column places the matter of more railway communication before the people in its true light, There is no hesitation on the part of anyone in venturing the opinion that it would be to our bests interests to work towards getting more railway communication, and especially such as would tap the country to the south. The present excitement indulged in by our friends of Emerson and the Portage, caused by the proposed Emerson and North-Western, should not be lost upon us, but should lead to some action on our part to secure, if possible, the building of the road (which now seems almost a certainty) to this point. To accomplish something towards such an end, we would advise that at the next meeting of the Council a railroad committee be appointed, and such further steps taken as will tend to the object we desire.

THE NEW LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR.

All surmise in the matter as to the successor of Lieutenant-Governor Cauchon is now set at rest by the appointment of Hon. J. C. Aikins, formerly Minister of Inland Revenue. This can scarcely but meet with the unanimous approval of both political parties, and we are glad to be able to extend to the Government and the Province our congratulations on the appointment, as we feel that in whatever way our new Lieutenant Governor can assist the Province he will do so, without prejudice. The appointment is, indeed, a happy one as contrasted with that made to the same position by the Mackenzie Government. Mr. Aikins has had a political experience which peculiarly fits him for the constitutional duties of the position, and is personal character is above reproach.

MR. AIKINS is of Irish descent, and was born near Toronto on 30th March, 1823. He was brought up on his father's farm, and was early inured to the hardships of rural life in Canada in those primitive times. He united with the Methodist body at an early age, and has ever since been identified with it. He attended the public schools in the neighborhood of his home, and afterwards spent some time at the Upper Canada Academy at Cobourg, which subsequently developed into Victoria College and University. At the first collegiate examination, which was held on the 17th of April, 1843, he figured as one of the "Merit Students." After completing his education he settled down on a farm in the county of Peel, a few miles from the paternal homestead, and there remained until about eleven years ago, when he removed to Toronto, where he has since resided. He embraced the Reform side in politics, and was for many years identified with the Reform party. His life was unmarked by any incident of public interest until 1851, when he was nominated as the representative of his native county in the Assembly. Not succeeding preferred for public life [illegible] period he declined the nomination [illegible] general election held in 1854, he offered himself as a candidate on the Reform side in opposition to the sitting member, Mr. George Wright, of Brampton. His candidature was successful, and he was elected to the Assembly. Upon taking his seat he recorded his first vote against the Hincks-Morin Administration, and thus participated in bringing about the downfall of that Ministry. At Confederation he was called to the Senate of the Dominion, of which he still continues to be a member. His political views, it is to be presumed, had meanwhile undergone some modification, as he accepted office, on the 9th of December, 1867, as Secretary of State in the Government of Sir John Macdonald, and has ever since been a follower of that statesman. The Public Lands Act of 1872 is another measure which dates from Mr. Aikins' term of office, the measure itself having been in great part prepared by Colonel John Stoughton Dennis, Surveyor-General. The disclosures with reference to the sale of the Pacific Railway Charter resulted, in November, 1873, in the overthrow of the Government. Mr. Aikins participated in its downfall, and resigned office with his colleagues. Upon Sir John Macdonald's return to power in October, 1878, Mr. Aikins again accepted office as Secretary of State, and retained that position until the month of November, 1880, when there was a readjustment of portfolios, and he became Minister of Inland Revenue. Though not an effective speaker, and making no pretence to being either brilliant or showy, he has a cool judgment, and has administered the affairs of his several departments with efficiency. He is attentive to his duties, is shrewd in selecting his counsellors and assistants, and has considerable aptitude for dealing with matters of detail. These qualities, rather than any profound statesmanship, have placed him in his present high position.

He is President of the Manitoba and North-West Loan Company, and Vice-President of the National Investment Company. He likewise holds important positions of trust in connection with the Methodist Church.

Conklin and Hill, the suspected bank robbers, have been released by the Winnipeg authorities, they having no evidence upon which to convict.

MR. Goldie, of the firm of Goldie & Co., brewers, of Portage la Prairie, was in town on Tuesday last. He has appointed Messrs. Burnett & Johnson as his agents at this place. To the lovers of good beer this will be a great boon.

REGINA.

MAYOR DALY INTERVIEWED BY A SUN REPORTER.

Reporter: I understand you have just returned from a trip to Regina, and if agreeable to you the SUN would like to have an expression of your opinion concerning it to present to its readers, as there are so many opposite opinions expressed with regard to it.

Mayor Daly: I made the trip to Regina a few days since, with the object of satisfying myself as to its position and future importance.

Reporter: Do you think the site as good a one as might have been selected.

Mayor: It is not; there is a better site at the Moose Jaw, but in my opinion it is the best in that locality; although had the road followed the original location a magnificent site could have been secured ten miles north.

Rep.: And what about Fort Qu'Appelle.

Mayor: It is the prettiest spot in the North West, and but for its distance from the railroad I should say it was preferable as the site for the capital to anything I have yet seen.

Rep.: I presume you have travelled over considerable of the country to the north of Regina, and can tell us as to the quality of the land.

Mayor: The land, as well as I could judge, is of a first class quality, and will make the best of wheat land. The area being extensive, Regina will have in this a strong support.

Rep.: As to drainage.

Mayor: The idea is prevalent that the town site is at the railway station, and from this is at once drawn the conclusion that it will be impossible to secure drainage. This is an error, as the Government buildings are to be erected on section 24, tp. 17, range 21, and the C. P. R. own section 23 in the same range, both of which border on the river, while the station grounds are on section 19, tp. 17, range 20, now being surveyed, which is very flat and farther from the river, but suited for yard purposes splendidly.

Rep.: As to water.

Mayor: I cannot think any more trouble will be experienced than the residents of Winnipeg felt some years ago; and I am of the opinion that a few artesian wells will supply every purpose.

Rep.: Which way do you suppose the town will grow.

Mayor: To the west or towards the river.

Rep.: How do you account for the varied reports concerning the location.

Mayor: From the fact that they take too hurried a view, and go there considerably prejudiced. The prairie in the vicinity is burnt black, which gives the landscape a very sombre and gloomy appearance, creating, certainly, no very agreeable impression.

Rep.: And as to wood.

Mayor: There is sufficient to last for some time within thirteen miles of the town site.

Rep.: Having "done" Regina, have you less confidence in the young city you are assisting in building up, and of which you are now chief magistrate.

Mayor: On the contrary, I have now greater confidence in Brandon than ever, as in none of my travels have I seen a spot so adapted to make a large and prosperous city, it having on every hand large and fertile tracts of farming country in the hands of men who know their business in that particular, and Brandon's greatness is now beyond peradventure.

To the Editor of THE BRANDON SUN:

DEAR SIR,—Many of your readers interested in the future of this city are anxious to know what is being done to secure it railroad facilities; markets and effective activity is being exercised at other points, whose natural facilities are in every way inferior to Brandon's, while nothing apparently is being done here. It is highly proper to enquire into this matter. Railroads are being projected East, West, North and South, but we hear of none being promoted here. It is true we have the promise of a road from here to the Souris coal regions, and another to connect this city, but should we get either or both it would be due to influence and inducements over which we have no control. We have every requisite for becoming a great city if our citizens but take advantage of what nature has thrown in her way. Every man who has thought of it intelligently must see that Brandon's situation is peculiarly suited for a great railroad and distributing centre, and amid our push and super-added burdens to get things started here, this fact must not be neglected and other plans allowed to determine matters so as to prejudice Brandon's future. Compare Portage la Prairie with this city and how would the former appear as a competitor in any such matter as I have mentioned. Yet she has her P. W. & N. W., and two other roads at least are mentioned as likely to be there shortly. One of these, the Emerson and North-Western, may shortly become a road of very marked importance, though quite lately it was thought to be of little or no consequence. Had Brandon bestirred herself—and even yet it may not be impossible—she might have secured and may yet be able to secure the road. Or if not secured we might get another road from here to Smuggler's Point. An amount of judicious agitation and proper consideration on the part of Brandon would doubtless secure one or both. Contemplate what chances are in our favor and the immense advantages to be derived from such road. Shippers from this point and the West would secure a much shorter route, while Brandon would be placed in direct communication with some of the most fertile districts in the whole Province. With one or two roads like those mentioned, and one or two into the North and North-West, and with the Souris City and Souris coal field roads, we would shortly be in a position of equal importance even with Winnipeg. And can there be any hesitation when we see places like Morris, Emerson, Portage la Prairie, Gladstone, Minnedosa and Rapid City actually securing what we desire? Surely there can be no need of exhortation. If our city fathers have rightly been charged with supineness let them bestir themselves at once, and free themselves from so serious an imputation. We cannot agitate too quickly or too strongly. Let us have a public meeting. Let us place ourselves at once in communication with capitalists and railroad men, and let us do all that may be necessary to secure all the railway communication possible and at once.

Yours truly,
RAILROAD.

Brandon, Sept. 24, 1882.

We regret to hear that Mr. Geo. F. Newcomb of the Turtle Mountain Land Agency, who left here some weeks ago to obtain medical treatment at Buffalo, New York, is not recovering as rapidly as was anticipated. His friends hoped that rest from office duties would soon restore him to his wonted strength, but it is not probable he will be able to return home before the end of October.

THE BRANDON SUN.

BRANDON, MANITOBA, SEP. 28, 1882.

MR. WYLIE, secretary of the Brandon Club, informs us that it has now over four hundred members.

THE PLUM CREEK SALE.—The sale of lots at the new town will, no doubt, prove a lively one. A number of Brandonites will go out on Saturday.

THE SIDEWALKS.—Work was actively commenced on the sidewalks on Monday morning last, and in the hands of Mr. W. D. Mathieson, well known as one of the ablest of contractors, the work will no doubt be most satisfactorily accomplished.

ON Sunday last we had the pleasure of crossing the Assiniboine river, over the 18th street bridge. The approaches are all but completed, and the bridge which is now swung into place will be ready for traffic in a very few days.

THE Alpha has ceased running for this season, and for some days has been laid up in the elbow of the river, awaiting material from Winnipeg by which, on its arrival, she will be drawn on shore and thoroughly overhauled.

THE inconvenience hitherto felt by passengers to the west of this will now, to a certain extent, be overcome, as the C. P. R. purpose placing upon the road at once three of their new sleepers. A good nights rest will thus be obtained.

MR. Lawrence Buchan reports several more sales of property this week in Ward No. 4 (sec. 22.) Mr. Fortier has also made some sales. Most of them have been made with building conditions.

ON Tuesday last the bell was placed in the tower of St. Matthew's. From its elevated position, it will give forth a very distinct sound. We learn that Mr. L. M. Fortier has donated the bell to the church.

DURING the past week several carloads of brick and stone have arrived for the new workshops and round-house. Major Bowles has the contract, and is pushing them forward with all expedition.

ST. Matthew's Church, though still in rather an unfinished condition, will be opened for Divine worship on Sunday. A list of the services will be found in our advertising columns. They will doubtless be attended by very large congregations.

THE official car of the Canadian Pacific Railroad went west on Tuesday last, containing Mr. James, Chief Engineer, and Major Camp, the lumber king, of Minneapolis. They will go to the end of Messrs. Langdon & Sheppard's five hundred mile contract.

RAFT.—Mr. Thomas, merchant, of Millford, starts to-day with a raft of 14,000 feet of lumber for Millford. He takes along with him a quantity of merchandise. This is the first venture of the kind from this part. The raft has been built and will be managed by Mr. Henry, of Millford, an old raftsman.

HANDSOME BUS.—We were shown the other day in the establishment of Jas. Hamilton, on 8th street, an exceedingly handsome bus, which was originally intended for the Criterion, but arrived too late for service this season. It is without doubt the best thing of the kind in the Province.

A TEA-MEETING was held at Rapid City on Tuesday evening last, in connection with the opening of the Presbyterian church at that place. A number of our citizens embraced the opportunity for a drive. With the younger members of the party it is hard to say whether the opportunity was the only object embraced.

SECOND HOMESTEAD ENTRY.—It does not appear to be generally known that second homestead entry can now be made. Yet quite a number are taking advantage of the privilege and have succeeded making entry a second time. Before doing so, though, they are required to take an oath to the effect that they have received a patent for their first.

THE Baptist Congregation will meet next Lord's day (October 1st) and henceforth during the fall and winter, in the upper room of the school house. After the morning discourse, the organization of a church and the appointment of its officers will take place. Dr. John Crawford, Rapid City, is expected to preach in the morning, at 11 o'clock, and Rev. A. McDonald, the general missionary, at 7 p. m. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

NEW MAPS.—We have been handed by Mr. Clementi-Smith, Dominion Land Agent at this place, a pair of maps as nearly correct as any we have seen. Mr. Clementi-Smith wishes the mind of the public to be disabused with reference to the statement that there is no land to be had in this district. In ranges 27, 28, 29 and 30 there are thousands of acres of the very best land to be homesteaded, but entries in these ranges are rapidly being made.

STREET LAMPS.—By report of the City Council proceedings, it will be seen that sixteen lamps are to be procured at once, to be placed at important corners in the city. These lamps are to be supplied by Messrs. Fortier & Bucke, and are the same as are used in Chicago. They have a fountain on topwhich supplies the oil, and a regulator by means of which they may be arranged to burn for a certain number of hours. The light they give is steady and brilliant.

DISTINGUISHED ARRIVAL.—During the early part of this week, James McBurnie, Esq., who is erecting the handsome residence on the corner of 13th street and Lorne Avenue, arrived in the city with his family, consisting of a daughter and son. Mr. McBurnie is a great acquisition to our young city. For a considerable portion of his lifetime he has carried on business in Brussels, Paris and New York as a lace merchant, and having accumulated a large portion of riches he has wisely decided to spend the remainder of his days in Brandon.

IN an interview with Mr. Jarvis, who has just returned from a trip to the Souris district, that gentleman showed us specimens of coal that he had picked up along the banks of the river. By experts and those who have some knowledge of the value and quality of coal, among which class Mr. Jarvis may safely be numbered, it is pronounced first-class. There is no doubt that at a very early day the citizens of Brandon will be using coal from within a very few miles of the city, and we would not be surprised if deposits were found in the city limits.

THE detached dwelling and villa residences, which Mr. Scarth gave the contract to G. B. Angus & Co. a few weeks since, are budding out in all directions. Some are being erected to the east, some to the west and others to the north side of the track. When finished they will be among the most attractive buildings in the place, the style of architecture being such as to command attention. We understand that so satisfactory are those already under way Mr. Scarth has given the contract for several more, making twenty-one in all. This will be accomodation for forty-two families. With these and the number of dwellings being erected by other individuals it will be seen that great effort is being made to have sufficient accomodation for all this winter.

HON. JOHN NORQUAY and C. R. Tuttle, Esq., were in town yesterday.

REV. MR. FRANKLIN, of the Big Plains, was in the city in the beginning of the week.

STEPS are being taken by the Cemetery Committee, to secure 32 acres of land in sec. 20, tp. 10, range 19, for funeral purposes. It is nicely situated, and slopes gradually towards the river.

OMITTED.—Among those who took part in the late concert in the school house in aid of the organ fund of the English Church, we unintentionally omitted the name of Miss Fortier, who took a prominent part in the musical proceedings of the entertainment.

J. S. Mackay, who, since April last, has had charge of church work in the neighborhood of Millford, left on Monday morning last for Toronto where he will continue his studies in Knox College. He speaks highly of the country, and reports the crops in the district to the south as being the best he has ever seen.

THREATENED TO SHOOT.—Some time since a man named Parker, known in this city as the "dummy teamster," cancelled a claim near Plum Creek entered by a man named Holland, whose time for occupation had expired. There had been a crop of oats sown on the land, and when the "dummy" secured an entry for it he had to pay the government for the improvements. The parties, though, who had sown the crop had cut it in the meantime, and when they came to team it away they were warned by the "dummy;" who, it is alleged, threatened to shoot the first man who ventured to remove it. Information has been laid against him for threating to shoot. This case, as well as another in which Mr. C. Wisser, of this city, is concerned, will be heard before Capt. Brereton to-morrow.

ONE FOR BRANDON.—On the arrival of Mr. Christie, the contractor who supplies the lumber for the city sidewalks, at Eau Claire, Wis., for the purpose of purchasing his supply, the lumbermen of the city were having a gala day, the yards were decorated with flags, bunting and brass bands. On finding out that the cause for so much display was that a train of seventeen cars of lumber was about leaving for Omaha to be used on corporation work, our cool-headed Christie from the region to the north remarked that there was a twelve-month's old city, named Brandon, that, through him, would repeat the order and add four cars to it. To say that surprise showed itself upon the faces of those near by would scarcely do the subject justice. Mr. Christie, though, was as good as his word, and having made arrangements with the different roads, the train load of lumber for this city was sent through as a special and arrived on Monday last, labelled in large letters, "This train load of lumber bound through for the city of Brandon, Manitoba." It is now being distributed by the contractors at the most convenient points throughout the city.

The Mayor asked if any member of the Council could give any information as to what arrangements were being made for the handling of grain here during the coming season. Ald. Fortier was asked to reply, and stated that for some time his firm had been in communication with the Company about this matter, but up to a very recent date could get no satisfaction. Now they had made such arrangements, though, as would enable them to erect what would another season be the nucleus of a large elevator; and, further, such arrangements had been made as to enable the firm to buy all the grain grown in this district this year.

CRICKET.

Winnipeg vs. Brandon.

[From our own Reporter.]

Winnipeg and a professional bowler from England, vs. Brandon and Mr. F. Disbrowe, in place of Mr. Jukes, unavoidably absent.

This match was played on Saturday the 23rd inst., and resulted in a victory for the former, as when time was called the Brandon club had to get 38 runs and only one wicket left to go down, but it shows that the Brandon play was not so very bad, as the older club, with their professional bowler, only just got the better of them, and in looking over the score it shows that six wickets were taken by him.

The Winnipeg team went in first, and the batting of Messrs. Dundas, Mitchell and Blanchard was very good, and the bowling of Messrs. Law, Henley and T. D. Wylie was quite up to the mark, but the fielding was generally bad and the Brandon team show decided signs of the want of practice—which the Winnipegers showed when they put their opponents in, but the batting of Mr. Nisbet Kilgour was very good. In the second innings the Winnipegers only scored 63, owing to the extremely good bowling of Mr. M. Wylie; who, like the professional on the other side, took 6 wickets in the second innings.

The following is the score:

We understand that there is likely to be a return match on the 1st of next month on the Brandon Cricket Club ground, when it is to be hoped Brandon will turn the tables.

(From the Free Press).

The promised match between the above cricket teams took place at the Driving Park, on Saturday, and was not only interesting throughout. The city eleven went first to the bat and scored 87, Dundas, Mitchell, Blanchard, and McIntyre, scoring double figures. The Brandon team then went to bat, but made a poor record, retiring with only 47 runs. The home team did not do so well in the second innings, having only scored 67 runs. The Brandon team did a little better the second time, Forester and Gurney scoring double numbers. They retired with 67 to their credit. The total score for the Winnipegs was 152, and that of their opponents 114. leaving the former victorious by 38 runs.

The only Manufactory of Barb Wire,

The Barb is made from a flat piece of Steel which has four points projecting in as many directions, and is very much stronger than the Wire Barb. See above cut.

The galvenizing is now done after the Barbs are set and the Wire twisted, consequently the Barbs are firm and cannot be moved out of place. It is also far more durable than Ontario Barb Wire as the surface or zinc is not cracked or broken by twisting.

The Old Master.

Finished was the singer's chorus
And a solo sweet and clear
Held them spellbound for a moment,
When a bent old man drew near.

The old master, simple-minded,
Now his voice was thin and shrill,
But he lived in bright days vanished,
When he touched mens' hearts at will.

And he proudly stood before them,
While they listened silently—
If the song was dead in prison,
Yet the spirit wandered free.

He was feeble now and childish
He should never learn from them
That the gem of song was missing
From his precious diadem.

And the plaudits long continued,
Shook the house from roof to base,
"Wunderschon!" and "Bravo! Bravo!"
And each kindly German face

Smiled a tender earnest welcome,
As they showered flowers below;
His "song picture" they could see it
With the love of long ago.

So this old world life grows better
Through each kind deed one by one,
Usless breaks another fetter
From the chariot of the sun.

The Souris Coal.

IMPORTANT TEST OF ITS ADAPTABILITY TO RAILWAY USE.

A sample of the coal from the Souris district was burned last evening in the furnace of engine No. 101 of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company which is employed in the freight yards here. The results were most satisfactory in every respect. The quantity burned was about 850 pounds and the time during which it lasted, two hours and twenty minutes, the engine being constantly employed during the test. The steam generating power of the coal proved to be excellent, and it burned with a clear bright flame. One admirable property noted was that all the material was consumed, there being no clinkers left. It is intended to compare the coal with that ordinarily used, by burning an equal quantity of the latter in a similiar way, noting the time taken in its consumption.

How the coal was brought to this city to be tested is an interesting story. Mr. George Pocock, who came from the coal districts in the west of England and is familiar with coal mining in all aspects, came to this country last spring in consequence of what he heard in the old land of the fame of the Souris coal district in this far-off country. Having seen and judged for himself, he is now thoroughly in earnest and enthusiastic in advocating the speedy development of those immense resources. He has united with others in forming a company to be known as the Souris Coal Mining Company. The members of the firm are Pocock, Freeth & Pocock. The locality of their proposed operations is situated in township 1, range 6, west of the second principal meridian. The city of the future is to be named "Excelsior." Mr. Geo. Pocock brought in a wagon, driving a distance of 400 miles, to Emerson, and arriving in Winnipeg yesterday. He was under the necessity of swimming his horses over six streams on the way, and on each occasion was obliged to unload his coal into boats, and reload it after getting his wagon put together on the opposite side of the water. Mr. Pocock says that the depth of the seam of coal is from 9 to 10 feet, the depth below the surface, 138 feet, and the extent 20 miles from north to south by 18 miles from east to west. He has had the coal tested for every purpose, such as burning in stoves and grates, in blacksmiths' forges, and lastly in railway locomotives.

The locality is situated about 75 miles from Moosemin Creek. As soon as the railway company extends its branch line to the place, the company propose to commence operations, employing 200 men.

The coal burned here last night in engine 101 was taken from a hill side, fifteen feet from the surface. Large blocks were taken out, some of them weighing at least 100 pounds each.—Free Press of Sept. 21st.

Britain' Late Foe.

The King of Ashantee celebrated the Queen's birthday in a manner wholly unprecedented at Coomassie. He drank Her Majesty's health, not in the recesses of his palace, but in the presence of Capt. Lonsdale, the British agent, and a large number of his subjects. The tribute of respect he thus paid to the Sovereign with whom only a few years ago he was at war, appears to have been an event in the history of his kingdom; for it is gravely announced that this was the first occasion on which he had ever drunk liquor in public. The king is anxious to cultivate friendly social as well as political relations with the British Government and its representative in Africa. It is also stated that he made a present of $60 or $70 to a Wesleyan missionary who is striving to Christianize the people of Ashantee.

MINNEDOSA ITEMS.

The harvest in this locality is nearly all housed, or, rather, stacked; and the yield of grain will be very large.

G. S. Armitage, Esq., has returned from Ontario and looks none the worse for his trip. It is rumored that he is about building a grist and saw mill, which will be to the advantage of the community, as the one owned by Major Douglass is not enough to supply the demand. We hope that if Mr. Armitage goes into this enterprise it will have the effect of bringing down the prices at present asked, as the Major's motto is, "The more cost the more honor."

The Rev. Mr. Wellwood (Presbyterian) has taken a trip to Montreal for the benefit of his health; to avoid the malaria with which he suffered last year. His pulpit was filled on Sabbath by Mr. B. Beddome, who gave an instructive address from Genesis, 1st chapter, 3rd verse.

The first court of this county was held here on the 5th inst. Quite a number of cases were tried, which were well disposed of. Mr. T. A. Cuddy, Clerk, and George Barker, Bailiff, did their duty in a satisfactory manner.

Hot Milk as a Restorative.

Milk that is heated too much above 100 degrees Fahrenheit loses for the time a degree of its sweetness and its density; but no one fatigued by overexertion of body and mind, who has ever experienced the reviving influence of a tumbler of this beverage, heated as hot as it can be sipped, will willingly forego a resort to it because of its having been rendered somewhat less acceptable to the palate. The promptness with which its cordial influence is felt is indeed surprising. Some portions of it seems to be digested and appropriated almost immediately; and many who think they need alcoholic stimulants when exhausted by labor of brain or body will find in this simple draught an equivalent that is abundantly satisfying and more enduring in its effects.—Phrenological Journal.

A case of suspended animation mistaken for death is reported in Boston. A girl was pronounced dead by her physician. A few hours after, when her father turned to leave her alone, she cried, "Please don't go, papa." She then told her friends, as they gathered about her, that she had been in heaven a glorious place, and wished to return. She soon after died.

A Philadelphia undertaker invited some actors and other friends to a dinner. The invitations were printed on mourning paper, ornamented with a skull and crossbones; and the guests guests found that the funeral aspect of the affair did not end with that. The table was set in a room hung with black and lighted by candles; the table resembled a catafalque; the dishes were edged with black; a turkey was garnished with a white collar and black necktie; the ice cream was moulded like a coffin; and the mashed potatoes were in a mound, with sprigs of green here and there, the tombstones to complete the semblance of a burial plot.

Some curious incidents are described from time to time by the correspondents with the British army in Egypt. In one of the skirmishes by which the canal was secured—at Chalouf—it was necessary to make a flanking attack. Lieutenant Long, who was in command of a party of the 74th, swam across a stream and secured a boat, with which he returned for his men. To do this he had to divest himself of his clothes, and his ardor was far too great to allow him to waste time in putting them on again. He led the attack, therefore, with nothing on but a pair of boots and a belt. It must have been a strange spectacle to see an officer thus attired, charging at the head of a body of red coats. We are not told what effect this departure from the ordinary rules of civilized warfare had upon the Egyptians.

Cetewayo has gone home again. To all appearance he will be very generally welcomed back by his former subjects. Things have by no means settled down yet as could be wished in South Africa. Cetewayo is going back, there is every reason to believe with loyal feelings towards England. He always speaks of the Queen as his mother, and says he shall ever be grateful to her and Mr. Gladstone. He also speaks in a very warm manner of Lord Kimberley. Among other things, he was taken to the Woolwich arsenal, certainly at the present time one of the most interesting sights in London. Over 11,000 persons are now employed there. He expressed himself while there, as feeling as though he had grown up all at once from a child into a man. Many regret that it could not also be arranged for him to pay a visit to the great manufacturing towns of the north. He has created a very favorable opinion among those who have seen the most of him, of his intellectual powers. In interviews with deputations, he generally had the best of it. The National Temperance League had an audience from him, shortly before his departure, to obtain a promise, if possible, against the sale of intoxicating drinks among the Zulus. He quite nonplussed them, by telling them that they had come to the wrong man. No spirits are made in Zululand. The beer they make is meat as well as drink, being very much like gruel. He quite agreed with them as to the evil caused by the drinking of spirits, but their importation into this country was already illegal, and he thought the door ought to be shut on the side from which the spirits came.

Purchase your Residence and Business Sites in

THE CHOICEST LOCATIONS

AND SECURE YOUR DEEDS AT ONCE.

It is scarcely necessary to enter into a lengthy description of the advantages to be derived by settling in Brandon, as its growth during the past summer has shown that it is decidedly the CITY OF THE WEST. Yet it behooves all who come here and purpose remaining to provide for themselves as soon as possible comfortable houses and good points of business. These can be had from Mr. Woodworth and at first prices. When you can secure such property as he offers you, and at the prices, it is folly to go elsewhere and purchase through outside agents, getting inferior locations and paying much higher figures.

The completion of the First Street Bridge brings right past the door of this property all the traffic to the North and West of the Assiniboine, and therefore adds greatly to its value. Of this purchasers have the benefit.

SOURIS! (Plum Creek.)

Town Lots for Sale!

The proprietors will offer for sale

By Public Auction, at the Crescent Hotel, Souris.

ON SATURDAY, SEPT. 30th,

At 12 o'clock noon, a large number of lots in the above thriving town.

It is situated at the Junction of Plum Creek with the river Souris. The main trail to the Turtle and Moose Mountains, The Antlers, Manchester, Dobbin City and all places South of the river crosses at this point. It is distant from the railway station at Alexander about 13 miles, and from Brandon 25 miles, to which latter place a stage runs twice a week. A Branch of the C. P. R. has also been located to the town en route to the coal fields.

There is at the mouth of Plum Creek a magnificent water-power, upon which a large grist mill is now being erected by Messrs. McCulloch, Sowden & Co., (the former late of Galt, Ont., and more recently proprietor of the mills in Minnedosa.) The capacity of this mill will be 200 barrels of flour per diem, and it is guaranteed to be completed by 1st January next.

The town also contains a Post Office, three hotels and two stopping places, three stores, an insurance office, a land and loan agency, and the large livery and feed stables of Messrs. Kirchhoffer & Jameson. Two firms of builders and contractors, a blacksmith shop, a Methodist church, an Episcopal church, and a number of private dwellings. In addition to which there are a number of buildings under contract to be completed before the winter sets in. Bricks of a most superior quality are being manufactured upon the premises. The Sowden settlement, in the centre of which this town is situated, is well known as one of the most thriving in the whole North-west, the acreage under cultivation being very large and the yield of grain enormous. The class of settlers, too, is superior to that generally met with, being largely composed of men of capital.
